

About Collette:

Since 2008, with high energy and love of socializing, cooking, and organizing, Collette found herself in the Hollywood catering and events industry and volunteering to plan and host parties for individuals who have difficulty with execution. It was only natural to start Events by Collette with her passion and support from her wonderful family.

Born and raised in Silicon Valley, particularly in Los Altos Hills, CA.

After extensive travel and multiple residences in North America, South America, and Europe, received her International MBA from Pepperdine University's Graziadio School of Business.

Multilingual, and worked in many industries including restaurant, catering, retail, sales, event planning, and business development in Los Angeles and San Francisco.
